Amazon to add Boston jobs

From The Boston Herald

Amazon is set to hire at least 2,000 employees and rent a huge new office space in the Seaport District in the next few years, Mayor Martin J. Walsh said Wednesday night.

At a meeting of downtown business leaders, Walsh said WS Development submitted plans this week for a new development in the Seaport that would include a new office for Amazon.

"No, it's not 'HQ2,'" Walsh said, referring to the company's plans for a second headquarters, which the city is still in the running for. "But it's great news for Boston."

Monday's project filing with the Boston Planning & Development Agency is the first step, the mayor said, and the city will work with Amazon to make it a reality.

"If this project is finalized, Amazon would occupy 1 million square feet of new space at Seaport Square and add up to 2,000 new positions in the next few years," Walsh said. "Projects like these are a tremendous vote of confidence in our city's economy."

Construction on the first space could begin as soon as this summer, and Amazon also is negotiating an option to lease a second building, according to documents filed with the city.

The company and WS Development are seeking $5 million in property tax breaks, would hinge on Amazon's creation of 2,000 new jobs within 25 miles of the city by 2025.

The company already has more than 1,000 employees in Boston and Cambridge, and another 900 employees will work out of a Fort Point office set to open later this year.

Massachusetts — and the Boston area — are currently in the running with 19 other regions for Amazon's second headquarters, a $5 billion project that would bring as many as 50,000 employees.

Some observers have raised concerns that Amazon's tax fight with the state could hurt the state's chances.

Amazon reported 2016 sales of nearly $136 billion.

Lee USA Speedway is sold to a Nashua businessman

Maintaining tradition: Norman Wrenn Jr. purchased the 3/8ths-of-a-mile NASCAR Home Track from John "Red" MacDonald and his wife, Judy, and said he plans to keep it as a racetrack.

By KIMBERLEY HAAS
Union Leader Correspondent

LEE — The Lee USA Speedway has been sold to a Nashua businessman who says he misses racing after retiring from the sport a few years ago.

Norman Wrenn Jr. purchased the 3/8ths-of-a-mile NASCAR Home Track from John "Red" MacDonald and his wife, Judy, who owned the track for more than 30 years.

Wrenn said Wednesday he started racing in 1983. "Lee was basically my home track for years; I missed the people," he said.

Wrenn competed in Pro Stock, Pro-4 modified and Modified Racing Series competitions over the course of his career. He won his first Pro Stock race at Lee in 1993, according to the speedway's website.

"I'm in the position that I can keep it open and keep it as a racetrack," Wrenn said. "I have known Red and Judy forever, and I knew they wanted someone to keep it as a racetrack and keep their vision and not just build condos there."

Wrenn is the owner of Bot-L-Gas in Nashua, which has been in business since 1960. Wrenn took over for his father in 1978, he said. Wrenn also owns Advanced Gas Distributors, which serves Amherst and Milford.

Wrenn's son, Norman Wrenn III, will give up racing and take over daily operations of the business. General Manager Joe Bassett will continue in his role. Norman Wrenn III said he plans to keep all staff members if they want to remain part of the team.

Wrenn Jr. is the fourth owner of the speedway built in 1964 by Robert Bonser, according to the company. Back then, the track was a 1/3rd-of-a-mile dirt tri-oval and had two elevation changes, one uphill and the other downhill.

Lee Raceway was closed in 1979 and Hall of Famer's Charlie Elliott, Ken Smith and Russ Conway took over in November of 1982. Construction began and on July 4, 1984, the first oval race was held at Lee USA Speedway.

The MacDonalds purchased the track in December of 1986. Since 1987, there have been weekly races at the speedway, according to the website.

Wrenn III said he plans to keep the traditions established by the MacDonalds. "My main focus is to keep things running the way Red and Judy had it," he said.

Minor facelifts will made at the track, including upgrades to the VIP tower, installing better lighting and enhancing the public address system, said Wrenn III, who also aims to improve attendance at the track.

"I don't remember a summer not going to the track on Fridays and Saturdays," the 35-year-old said.

The 2018 season begins April 15 with the American-Canadian "Governors Cup 150" tour.

Summit closes financing for senior community

WHITEFIELD — Summit by Morrison recently closed on nearly $25 million in financing with the U.S. Department of Agriculture Rural Development for an 83-unit senior living community in Whitefield.

Summit secured two low-interest loans from a USDA program that partners with municipalities and nonprofits.

Summit by Morrison broke ground in September 2016 and it completed construction of 14 independent living cottages in December.

It expects construction on Summit House, the main campus building with 33 independent living apartments, 24 assisted living apartments and 12 memory care studio units to be completed within the next few months.
